Class 1 News

We have had a lovely week in Class 1. We are now able to line up beautifully, listening carefully and enjoying our story times. The children are taking things in their stride and impressing me especially in the lunch hall where it can get a little noisy!

We had a visit from Firefighter Cinead on Friday and children loved learning about fire safety. We have looked at how the emergency services help us all and the children thought about what a fire officer and police officer might need to do their jobs.

Next week we will be reading a book called Once There Were Giants. We will be learning about different families and how we are unique. Chuckle will be in and we will be enjoying their work- I look forward to telling you more about that next week.

As always- please get in touch with any queries!

Class 2 news

We have had a fantastic week in Class 2! The children have been busy learning more about childhood in history and have been observing old toys from the past. They even had a go at playing with them. We played with puppets, marbles, a jack in the box, spinning tops and lots more. It was very interesting comparing toys from the past to our toys now!

The children have been investigating colours in Art and have been mixing primary colours to see what secondary colours they could make.

Next week, we will be reading the book Last Stop on Market Street. We will focus on writing interesting sentences using lots and lots of description, whilst working on our full stops and capital letters.

Please let me know if you have any questions via email or dojo.

Class 3 News

Another brilliant week of learning! This week we have been focussing on writing autobiographies. I have learnt so much new information about the children. I hope the children have enjoyed this activity as much as I have. In maths we have been continuing with place value and different scales on number lines. Please could you ensure the children practise their times tables daily. It is crucial for their mental dexterity. They can practise using either TT Rockstars and Timestables.co.uk

I am really excited about next week as we are starting our new topic Through the Ages. We will be starting with the Stone Age. Over the weekend, I shall be turning the class room into a cave, and a few other surprises for the children. It might be an idea to start doing some research over the weekend on the Stone Age. It is an exciting period of time.

Finally I'd like to thank Mrs Flanagan for helping with the Graffiti art project and the amount of time she gave to school.

Mrs Corcoran and Mrs Hine also came in to help and I would like to thank them too.

If you have any questions or queries please do not hesitate to contact Miss Bryant via Dojo or email.

Class 4 News

Another brilliant week has been had by all in Class 4, this week. We continued with our learning on our class novel, Darwin's Dragons. This week, we learnt how to write a diary entry from the perspective of the main character and we had to step into his shoes!

All the children have been working extremely hard in maths this week. We have continued on with our topic of place value, focusing on negative numbers and roman numerals. All children showed amazing perseverance and never gave up, I am very proud of them all.

All Year 6 children have settled into their roles brilliantly. The eco-warriors, librarians, house captains, sports captain, head boy and head girl have all done themselves very proud and are brilliant role models to the rest of the school. Well done!

I look forward to more of the same next week! Please let me know if you have any questions via email or dojo.
