Class 1 News

Well we have had a dinorific week this week! The children have been busy creating their own museum using the outside learning area. Some enterprising children even created the idea of tickets! We will see where this journey takes us!

If anybody has any spare school uniform including socks, Class 1 would be grateful as we have now run out of socks and tights in class.

Next week we will be continuing our journey on learning about dinosaurs and exploring shapes. We will be continuing our learning about Special Places.

Thank you to all of the parents continuing to hear their children read - the progress is astounding!

Class 2 news

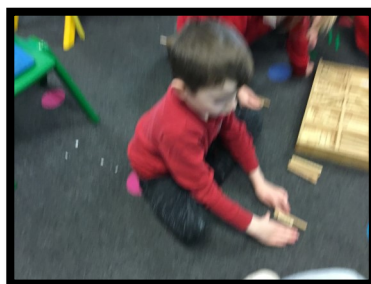

I have been wowed by the children's work ethic this week. The children have worked quietly with sustained concentration in all subjects. They have shown me how polite they are and how extremely keen they are to learn something new and try their very best. After writing stories they then had a go at self-correcting their work (editing) and then read them out to each other. All the children were proud of their creations.

In maths we have worked on counting in 5s, dividing by 10 and then looked at comparing lengths. Impressive work was carried out.

It was a real pleasure to teach Class 2 this week.

Class 3 News

This week Class 3 have been continuing our learning about volcanoes and specifically Mount Vesuvius. We have been beginning to write a newspaper report about the eruption and how it devastated the town of Pompeii. The children have been particularly good at applying their knowledge from history and geography in their writing and we are really impressed so far.

Class 4 News

Wow! The work ethic of all children in Class 4 this week has been amazing! All children have shown determination across all subjects and have never given up!

In English, we finished our brilliant stories, based on the novel The Explorer. The results are beyond anything I could have imagined! I am mesmerised by the children's writing talents.

In maths, we have started a new topic about measure where the children have been learning all about various different units of measure.

Well done Class 4 for your continued hard work and perseverance, you should all be very proud of yourselves.
